

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT: Greetings all,

As I write this message, we are celebrating Education Week --- with its most appropriate theme "Education: The Heart of Our Communities." It strikes me that this could be an annual theme for us during which time we could take a few moments and refer to it as our yearly medical. Our physician, during the "annual," takes our pulse and, in doing so, is really checking the heart. When we check the pulse of our school we can look to many factors to see if all is well in our particular place of work and, of course, the pulse takes in everything from the condition of our site, the mood of the staff, students and parents and the monies available to provide a great education to our students. Answering the question individually and as a staff: "how is our heart?" could be a very worthwhile exercise. Locally and provincially we can also take the pulse of education by reading news from the legislature, newspapers and letters to the editors along with decisions made by jurisdictions across the province. In our Catholic context it is also wise to keep an eye on the pulse of matters across the country as well.

As local president, I have taken some time to think about the heart of our local and I can say sincerely that, because of the commitment of everyone involved, the diagnosis is extremely positive. Our council meetings are so well attended every month and the discussion is lively and positive. At Council, your representatives are very supportive of each other and even on topics of disagreement the debate is well thought-out and respectfully delivered. The Heart of Our Community will always be well as long as we are all in right relationship with each other and the best way to achieve this is to care for one another in every way possible. Make sure to congratulate each other on the wonderful work you do every day.

Take care, Sandy
